

By: Sky Guzy

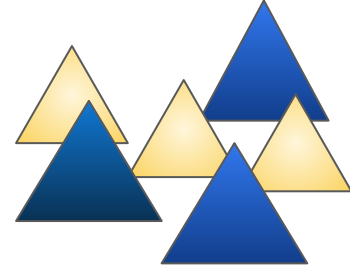

Uruguay economy

Uruguay is a small low populated country on the coast of south america. There a independet country. The standard work week is 44-48 hours, and woman are in about half of the work force.

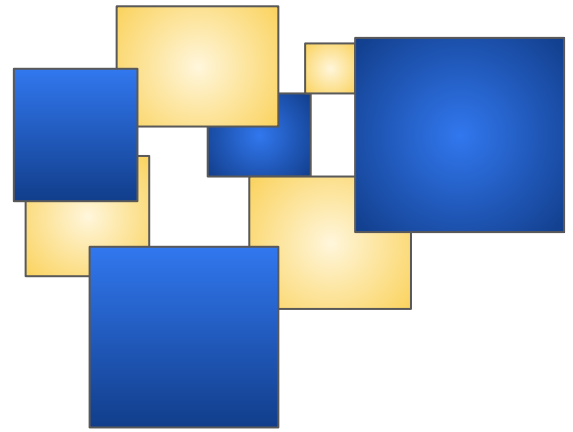

Climate

Uruguay has a temperate climate, in January it can reach anywhere from 70-80 degrees. They don't have a wet or dry season. They rarely have freezing temperatures.

Cultural Practices

Soccer is a national obsession in Uruguay, everyone watches and enjoys the sport. One of Uruguay's most important holidays is New Year's day.

Political Geography

There form of government is Presidential Republic. Uruguay's official language is Spanish. They have a population of 3,369,299 as of 2017. The capital of Uruguay is Montevideo, some other major cities are Salto, Paysandù and Las Piedras.

